

EVER NOTICE IT? Just back of the palatial Fifth Avenue home of William Solomon stands this charming little white frame cottage and its quaint vegetable garden on East Eighty-third Street. Belonging to the Arnold estate, this restful eyeful in a sea of brownstone fronts has so far successfully resisted all efforts to displace it. Faucett

PICKED BY MANY to win the national junior tennis championships, which begin at Boston to-morrow—Fritz Mercur, the schoolboy phenom of Harrisburg Academy, and recent winner of the junior championship of Pennsylvania. Tennis fans of the Keystone State will follow Mercur's playing with unusual interest, believing that he is destined to follow the same trail to tennis success as has Vincent Richards, the present junior champ.

Left—A SKYSCRAPER LUMBER PILE. To conserve space a Puget Sound lumber concern has devised the spectacular method of storing pictured here. These piles run between sixty and seventy feet in height. A cigarette butt at the base of this pile and what a blaze it would make! Kadel & Herbert

Right—PROTECTIVE COLORATION. A fine example of our old friend camouflage—a graflex shot of a weasel in his winter coat and midst snowy surroundings. Though the pelts of these animals (our furriers call 'ermine') bring the trapper but a couple of dollars each, milady pays a four to five figure price for the 200 it takes to make a fashionable wrap. Richard K. Wood

ORDERED TO LONDON. Rear Admiral Nathan C. Twining, late chief of staff of the Pacific fleet, who has been appointed naval attaché at London, a post that has been vacant since the assignment of Vice-Admiral A. P. Niblack some months ago to command American naval forces in European waters. Underwood

ATLANTIC CITY'S NEW BEACH. The latest innovation for bathers at this popular Jersey resort is the "Aerial Sun Beach" atop the new Ritz-Carlton Hotel. After your dip you take a 300-foot trip in an elevator, to find yourself on a perfectly kept sandy beach commanding a splendid view of the city and with an unobstructed sweep of ocean breezes. Underwood
